GLOBAL SOURCING

Sourced the World Over, Selected by Specialists

Global Select is the work of a team of stone specialists who spend the year at the source: on quarry sites, in reclaim yards, and across the halls of international stone shows.

From centuries-old cobbles lifted from European streets to Belgian bluestone, French limestone and granites quarried all over the world. We take care of the importing, inspection and logistics, so all that's left for you is choosing the stone.

I
At the Source
Our buyers travel internationally to source the best material.

II
Hand Selected
The stone in this catalogue is inspected and chosen on top quality.

III
Made to Order
Formats, thicknesses and finishes are confirmed for each project, with samples on request.

IV
Delivered to Site
We manage importing, freight and delivery, from the port to your yard or job site.

SECTION I

Granite

An igneous stone formed as molten rock cooled slowly deep within the earth. Its interlocking crystals make granite one of the hardest, densest building stones, at home on pool decks, terraces, steps and coping. Fourteen selections follow, from frosty whites and silver-grays to warm rose and honey.

GRANITE — NO. 01

Polar Freeze

A frosty white base with translucent ice-gray crystals and drifts of pale pewter, set off by crisp charcoal flecks. One of the brightest stones in the collection: clean and luminous, never sterile.

PRICE	$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

GRANITE — NO. 02

Abaco Buff

A soft, light granite: a pale gray-white base warmed by buff and sand tones and scattered with crisp black flecks. Up close it has depth; across a patio it reads bright and even, pairing naturally with weathered shingle, wood and blue water.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–6 weeks
FINISH	Thermal-style
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

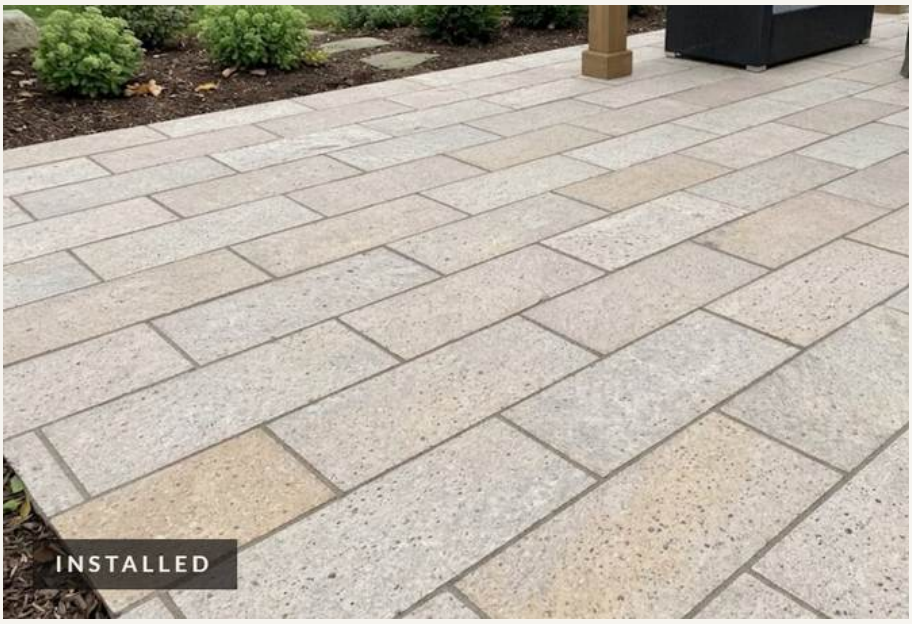

GRANITE — NO. 03

Arctic Cream

A creamy off-white base with soft drifts of warm beige and blush, and burgundy flecks scattered like pepper on cream. It warms a light patio without turning yellow, with gentle, Old World variation.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

◇

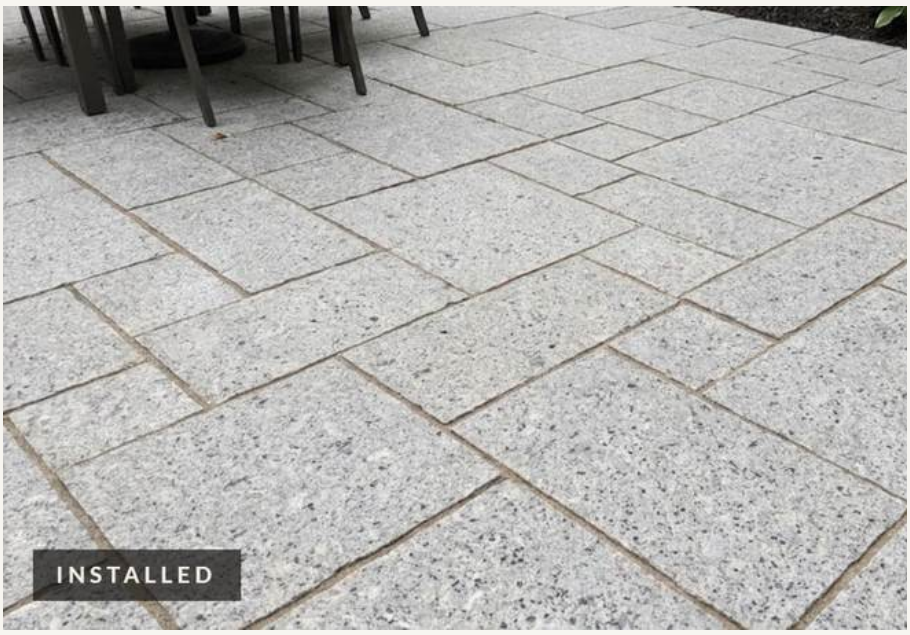

GRANITE — NO. 04

North Natic

Soft cream and silver-gray with a whisper of blush, glinting crystals and small burgundy flecks. Occasional honey-gold pieces add natural variation, keeping a patio bright without ever feeling stark.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

GRANITE — NO. 05

Oak Mountain

A classic New England granite: light silver-gray with crisp black flecks and pale oatmeal crystals. Quarried close to home in Maine, so it arrives in weeks rather than months.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–6 weeks
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

GRANITE — NO. 06

Blue Azul

A silver-gray base scattered with translucent blue crystals that glint as the sun moves across them. From across the yard it reads as a refined gray; up close, it sparkles. Quietly luxurious, never loud.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	Standard pattern stock
COPING	2" options

GRANITE — NO. 07

Alpine Breeze

Known for its natural flow. Sweeping lines of silver-gray and charcoal bend across a soft ivory and warm sand base, like wind over fresh snow, carrying motion from one paver to the next.

PRICE	$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

◇

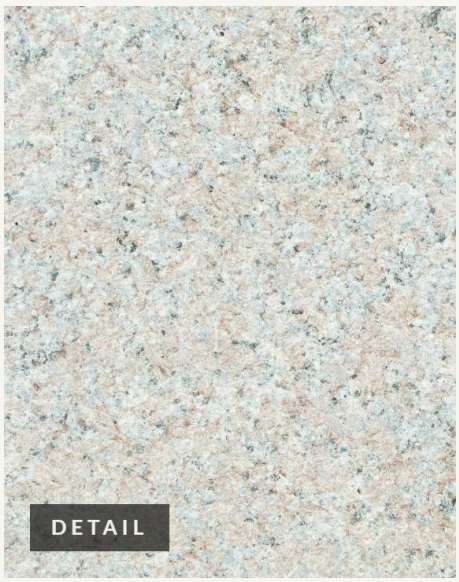

GRANITE — NO. 08

Corsair

A warm, mid-tone gray granite flecked with charcoal and frosty white crystals, with scattered honey and rust speckles that keep it from reading cold. Across a patio it settles into a soft, earthy gray that suits lodges, pools and wooded settings.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	2–3 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options
COLOR	Warm gray

GRANITE — NO. 09

Bellagio Blush

Soft blush pink blended with frosty white and cool silver-gray, dotted with charcoal flecks. The shotblasted finish gives a fine, even, matte texture with good grip underfoot, and a warm glow in evening light.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
FINISH	Shotblasted
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock

GRANITE — NO. 10

Sunset Bliss

The colors of an evening sky: rose, blush and dusty mauve crystals over a frosty gray base, with fine charcoal streaks. Across a full patio it settles into a warm peach-rose glow.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	2–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	3" options

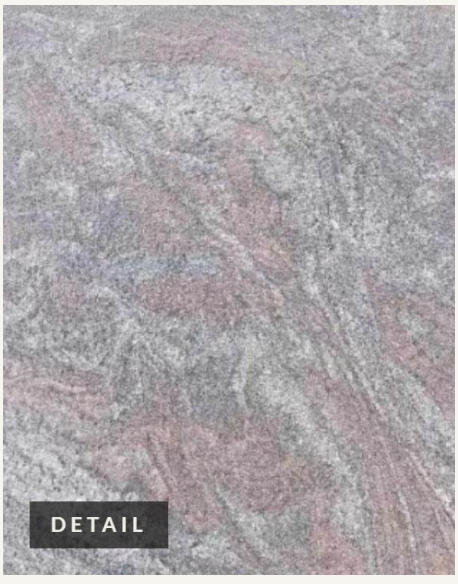

GRANITE — NO. 11

Himalayan

A cool gray, salt-and-pepper base with beige and pink, swept by long diagonal ribbons of rose and salmon. Banded rather than speckled, so no two pieces match: rosy in sunlight, softer in shade.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options

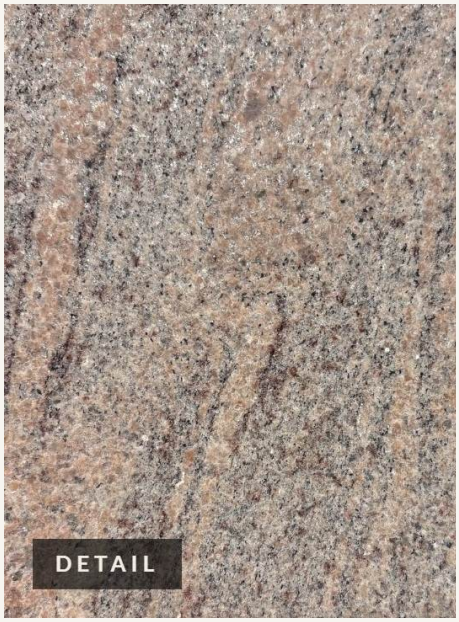

GRANITE — NO. 12

Tsunami

Sweeping waves of rose, mauve and dusty pink roll through a silver-gray base, so every paver carries its own movement. Laid across a patio, the flowing bands read like water in motion: bold, but soft in tone.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	2–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock
COPING	2" options
COLOR	Rose & silver-gray

GRANITE — NO. 13

Juprana

Warm rose and soft beige over a fine salt-and-pepper grain, with thin charcoal and plum streaks running like weathered wood grain. Pieces shift from blush to lavender-gray, so no two pavers match.

PRICE	$$
LEAD TIME	3–4 months
PAVING	1¼" pattern stock

GRANITE — NO. 14

Palomino

Warm and golden like the horse it is named for: blush and honey-tan woven with silver crystals and plum flecks. The warmest stone in the collection, made for stucco, terracotta and natural wood.

SECTION II

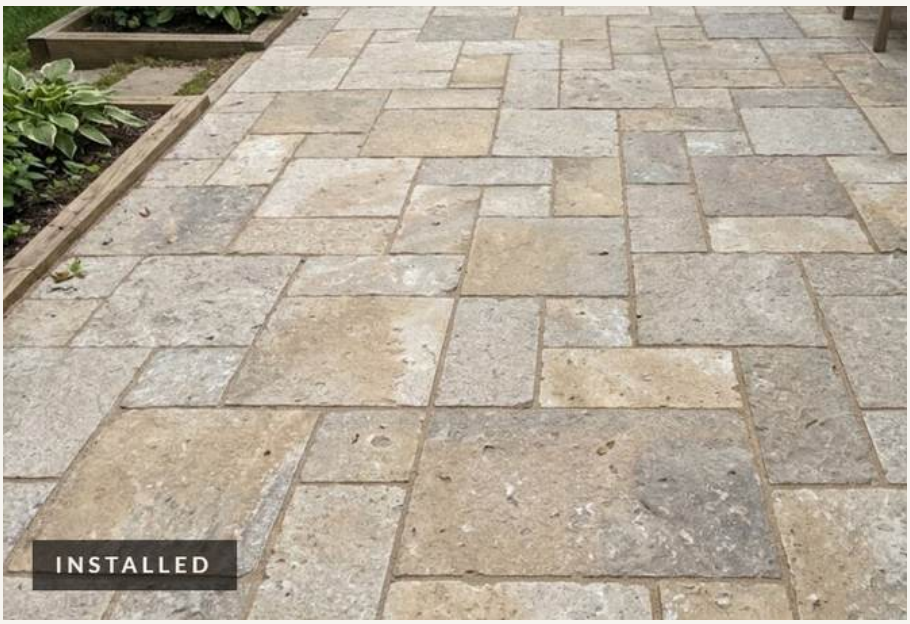

Limestone

A sedimentary stone laid down over millennia from shell and mineral deposits, limestone has a quiet, fine-grained character and a soft, even tone. Finish decides its place: thermal and tumbled faces suit the terrace, while vintage and antique finishes belong indoors.

LIMESTONE — NO. 20

Azul Tumbled Cobbles

A dense limestone cobble in cool blue-gray, tumbled to soften every edge and corner and give the face a gently aged, hand-worn texture. Tones move from silver-blue to deeper slate from piece to piece, with fine darker flecking, so a laid surface reads calm and even from a distance yet rich up close. Cut 6 inches wide in free lengths, for coursed walkways, paths and courtyards with an Old World feel.

LIMESTONE — NO. 21

Old Eastern Limestone Mix

A richly varied limestone blend with a softly aged, time-worn character. Ivory and cream pieces sit alongside dove gray, honey-gold, blush and sage, each face gently textured and full of quiet movement, so a laid floor reads warm and luminous from a distance and endlessly detailed up close. Supplied in mixed widths and lengths for a relaxed, Old World random pattern on terraces, courtyards and interiors.

Saw marks and slight color variations are superficial; they soften with use and patina.

BELGIAN BLUE STONE — NO. 22

Imported Belgium Bluestone

A light gray Belgian blue stone with the ancient, warm character of the flagstones found in old castles and churches. These slabs deliberately keep every inherent feature of the stone's structure, as antique slabs do: small cavities, white veins, calcite stains and stylolites. An aged, drummed finish leaves a non-slip, slightly uneven face for indoor and outdoor floors.

SECTION IV

Cleft & Riven Stone

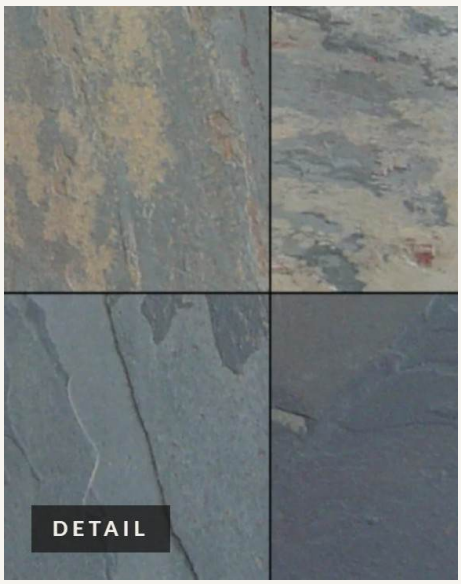

Stones that split along their natural bedding, leaving a cleft or riven face full of texture and movement. Arcadian slate runs from kitchen floor to pool deck, Revere Ridge comes in long free-length planks, Old Yorkshire Pavers bring the multi-toned riven face of traditional English flagstone, and Sandy Blue Cobbles carry the same split sandstone into blue-gray setts.

YORKSHIRE STONE — NO. 29

Old Yorkshire Pavers

Traditional Yorkshire stone paving flags: a fine-grained sandstone split along its natural beds into a riven, gently textured face. Each flag is multi-toned, moving from cool blue-gray and charcoal through drifts of sage green to warm buff and ochre on its weathered faces, traced with fine natural lines. Supplied in random lengths and widths at a slim depth, for laying in a classic random pattern.

SECTION V

Reclaimed

Stone with a past. Reclaimed material is recovered from earlier work, cleaned and set back to work, carrying a patina and softened edges that new stone takes generations to earn. Supply is limited by nature, so each lot is one of a kind.

RECLAIMED SANDSTONE — NO. 40 VERY LOW STOCK

Reclaimed Sandstone

Riven sandstone flags that carry generations of patina. Beneath a weathered dove-gray and olive face sit warm buff and honey tones from the stone's fine quartz sand, freckled with dark age spotting. Edges are softened and chipped from long use, and every flag differs in size, so it lays into a random pattern with the look of an old English courtyard.

RECLAIMED YORKSHIRE STONE — NO. 41

Reclaimed Yorkshire Pavers

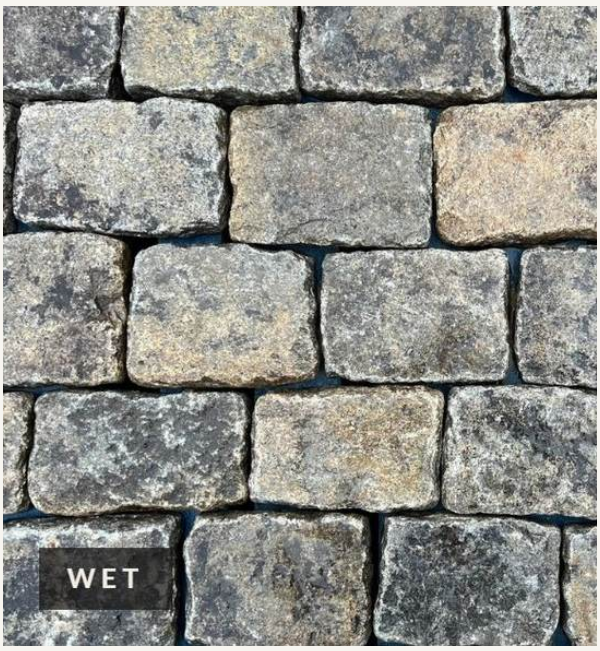

Generous reclaimed Yorkshire stone flags, lifted from earlier use and full of character. Colors range from light buff to a soft light gray, with the odd warm blush and the dark freckling of age across worn faces. Riven tops and softened, hand-dressed edges give each flag its own history, in a substantial range of thicknesses for paths, courtyards and terraces.

RECLAIMED BASALT — NO. 43

Reclaimed Basalt French Cobbles

Dense volcanic basalt setts, cut as near-perfect cubes and worn smooth on top by generations of traffic. The mix is very dark in shade, from deep black through charcoal to a softer light gray, giving a laid surface the quiet, timeless texture of an old European square. Every cube is the same size, so the setts lay easily in straight courses, fans or arcs.

RECLAIMED MIX — NO. 44

Reclaimed European Mix Cobbles

A lively blend of reclaimed sandstone and granite cobbles, each one worn smooth and rounded by generations of use. The mix is unusually colorful, with bronze, beige, caramel and soft pinkish setts set against cooler grays, so no two stretches of paving look alike. Supplied in three sizes that can be laid alone or mixed for a relaxed, Old World street.

RECLAIMED COBBLE — NO. 45

Reclaimed Blue European Cobbles

Crafted for exterior durability, these reclaimed cobblestones bring historic charm to walkways, patios, courtyards and drives. Each sett has a hard-wearing, naturally textured face in cool blue-gray, ranging from frosty silver to deep charcoal, with rounded, time-softened edges. Offered in three bed depths, from full-bed cobbles for driveways to sliced pieces for setting over a slab.

RECLAIMED LIMESTONE — NO. 46

Reclaimed French Limestone

Antique slabs of Bourgogne-Franche-Comté stone, a particularly dense limestone suited to both interior and exterior floors. Their great advantage is a natural patina built up over generations: soft cream, honey and pale gray, worn smooth in places and gently pitted in others, with varied nuances that are virtually impossible to reproduce in new stone. Laid as strips in fixed widths and free lengths.
